Workshop: Interest Based Bargaining CLE Credit

In the past two decades, the use of Interest Based or Mutual Gains Bargaining has become more and more common. During the recent recession, however, questions have emerged about the use of this process when employers have little or no economic gains to distribute.

Monday 4/2/2012 12:15 - 1:30 PM

City University Graduate Center 9th Floor, Room 9207

Ed Hartfield, Executive Director, The Hartfield Resolution Group

Robert Ufberg, Esq., Senior Partner, Ufberg Sileo, LLP

Workshop: Negotiations 101 CLE Credit

The course will be a demonstration of a grievance arbitration using a hypothetical scenario but with a real arbitrator and real lawyers. The participants will experience the actual details of an arbitration and will have the opportunity to discuss all issues with the arbitrator and the attorneys. This type of interactive seminar will provide real-time educational values to the participants.

*Please note: our CLE seminars are appropriate for both newly admitted and experienced attorneys.

Under Continuing Legal Education regulations, CLE credit will be offered only to those attorneys completing entire sessions; attorneys attending only part of a session are not eligible for partial credit for a session. Attorneys arriving late are welcome to attend the program but will not be eligible for CLE credit. Attorneys wishing to receive CLE credit must sign the program's attendance register prior to and following the CLE program; once a speaker begins the program, the sign-in sheets will be removed. Similarly, attorneys leaving the session early are also ineligible for CLE credit. While in NYS 50 minutes of CLE training provides 1 hour of credit, all CLEs sponsored by CUNY School of Law run a full 60 minutes, not including introductory remarks or breaks, but including question and answer periods.

Each course: 1 General CLE credit.
