

The Department of Physics and Astronomy at Hunter College of the City University of New York invites applications for a teaching lecturer position to begin Fall 2015. This is a tenure track position, with annual evaluation for reappointment.

Applicants qualified with a Ph.D. in Physics, Astronomy or closely related field are encouraged to apply. We seek an individual with a commitment to quality undergraduate education and with knowledge of current effective educational practices. The position will be focused on the teaching of introductory level courses in physics, and may include lab coordination and curriculum development as well.

Hunter College has an urban setting in Manhattan and attracts a diverse undergraduate student population. To apply, please visit the CUNY website and submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and a statement of teaching philosophy, as well as contact information for at least three references. At least one reference should attest to the applicant's teaching abilities. Screening of applications will begin in the early spring semester, and will continue to be accepted until the position is filled. Inquiries about the position should be directed to Neepa Maitra nmaitra@hunter.cuny.edu.

Hunter College is an EO/AA employer.
